Two stock fixed rooflights were key to unlocking the potential of this north-east facing extension. Providing ample natural daylight throughout this new extension, the fixed Flushglaze rooflights, have helped to not only transform the property into a bright, welcoming space, but have also created a central hub for the family to enjoy.

The owners of this Victorian property were keen to update their dark and disjointed downstairs layout with a modernised extension, which would help to re-energise the whole property.

In a lively, family household, a new feature room was required which would help bring the family together and allow them to enjoy spending time at home again.

The homeowners turned to Oasys Property Solutions, who fuelled the idea to build an extension which would create a generous sized kitchen/dining/living space, filled with an abundance of natural daylight; perfect for a family environment promoting wellbeing and concentration levels.

However, with a north-east facing extension, Simon Heckford, Director at Oasys Property Solution, knew it was important to add rooflights into the extension to maximise the natural light within the new area.

Having used rooflights.com since 2012, Simon was confident that specifying two fixed rooflights would provide the frameless, sky-only views that were required.

“There is no question that the quality, and consistency, of natural light from the rooflights, even in the bleakest weather, contributes to the light and airy feel of the new extension”

Simon Heckford, Director at Oasys Property Solution.

The finished result is a modernised extension which really adds a ‘wow factor’ to the property and offers a new space for the whole family to enjoy, whether it’s entertaining guests or spending family time together. The updated space has also generated a newfound connection with the garden space, and with stunning features throughout, has become a real centrepiece of the home.
